All of the injured live at Planer, Ky., and were en route to their homes from Indianapolis.

The automobile, a Ford sedan, struck the locomotive squarely and was completely wrecked. Knight and Corbett were pinned under the wreckage. The former's scalp was almost torn from his head, while he was bruised and cut and perhaps suffered internal injuries. Corbett also suffered severe scalp wounds and cuts and other hurts. The senator from Missouri, (Mr. Reed) the speaker continued, "has given you (the Republicans) an opportunity to show whether you represent your constituents or whether you represent Wall street by the proxy of Mellon and the president; is giving you an opportunity to say whether you live up to the proud traditions of the Republican party that has always been the friend of the soldier or whether you live up to the plane of the present organization that is the most super-serviceable slave that mammon ever had since the children of Israel broke that frolic around the golden calf in the neighborhood of Sinai."

Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, replying to Senator Stanley, said the movement to recommit the bonus bill was not initiated by the president, that the president acted only after he had been urged to do so by senators who pointed out the federal financial situation to him.

ABSENT VOTERS' LAW IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Appeals Court Decision May Determine Results In Close Counties

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 5.—The Absent Voters Law, enacted in 1918, is unconstitutional, beyond the hope of restitution except by a Constitutional amendment. Judge Sampson of the Court of Appeals held Tuesday and the whole court concurred, in the case of Green R. Lyon, Republican candidate for Mayor of Frankfort, against County Clerk J. B. Nash.

But the provision of the statute, permitting the registration of absentees is upheld, since registration is a purely legislative subject, not mentioned by the Constitution.

State employees at Frankfort and Federal employees at Washington, as well as traveling men, soldiers and sailors, will have to go home to vote, and all the hundreds of votes sent by mail to county clerks to be cast in the election next Tuesday will have to be destroyed. The decision may determine the result in some close counties and districts.

Absentees could not vote in municipal elections, anyway, although with the municipal tickets printed on the general ballots mailed them, it was a question how the straight votes of absentees could be kept out of them.

DECISION IN MUNICIPAL CASE

It was this municipal election problem that brought about the decision. W. E. Clark, Independent candidate for Police Judge, and Green R. Lyon, Republican candidate for Mayor, filed suit to require the County Clerk to print the municipal ticket on a separate ballot. The practical purpose sought was to divorce the Democratic municipal ticket from the straight party ballots; but the ground urged was that the clear implication of the Absent Voter Law was that there should be separate municipal and county ballots.

They lost on their main contention, as both Circuit Judge Robert L. Stout and the Court of Appeals decided against them, and Clark was debarred from the ticket entirely, because his petition, filed with the County Clerk, was defective. This leaves Police Judge W. C. Herndon, Democratic candidate, without opposition.

Section 147 of the Constitution, on which the Absent Voters Law was wrecked, provides that "All elections by the people shall be by secret official ballot, furnished by public authority to voters at the polls and marked by each voter in private at the polls and then and there deposited."

The Court's Viewpoint

In view of the ambiguous language of the organic law, the Court announced the obvious conclusion that the ballot "cannot be furnished by public authority to the voters at the polls and marked by each voter at the polls if it is mailed to him at some address outside the county where the election is being held. Our lawmaking body overlooked this provision of the Constitution," the Court continued, "when it undertook to and did pass the Absent Voters Law."

The Court's viewpoint is that the provision of the statute, permitting the registration of absentees is upheld, since registration is a purely legislative subject, not mentioned by the Constitution.

State employees at Frankfort and Federal employees at Washington, as well as traveling men, soldiers and sailors, will have to go home to vote, and all the hundreds of votes sent by mail to county clerks to be cast in the election next Tuesday will have to be destroyed. MACNIDER NEW HEAD OF AMERICAN LEGION

Convention Backs Two Bills For Compensation of Ex-War Veterans

Kansas City, Nov. 2.—The daisy was adopted by unanimous vote today as the official flower of the American Legion.

Kansas City, Nov. 2.—The national convention of the American Legion adjourned tonight after electing Hanford MacNider, Mason City, Iowa, national commander, selecting other officers and adopting resolutions covering a wide range of subjects. The convention had been in session without a recess since early this morning.

The election of Mr. MacNider to succeed John G. Emery, Grand Rapids, Mich., was made unanimous after more than half of the State delegations had seconded his nomination and three other candidates nominated Roy Hoffman, Oklahoma City; Earl M. Cline, Nebraska City, Neb., and John F. Williams, Joplin, Mo., had withdrawn in his favor.

Kentucky Has Candidate

M. H. Norman, Elizabethtown, Ky., had presented the name of Emmet O'Neal, Louisville.

Vice commanders chosen were:

George L. Berry, Rogersville, Tenn.; H. Nelson Jackson, Burlington, Vt., and Charles Kendrick, San Francisco, representing the army; and Raymond Brackett, Marblehead, Mass., and J. A. McCormick, Fort Lyon, Ga., of the navy.

The Rev. Earl Blackman, Chanute, Ill., a minister of the Christian Church, Disciples of Christ, was elected national chaplain.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 7.—The arrest of Walter R. Lord and George O'Connell on the Yale University grounds, charged with illegally transporting and selling liquor, was announced. A state prohibition officer made the arrest.

Two resolutions bearing on Federal compensation for soldiers were among the mass adopted. Both declared in favor of immediate compensation legislation.

Report On Citizenship

The Americanization Committee's report was adopted section by section. One clause urging that clemency be not given Eugene V. Debs, serving a sentence in the Federal prison at Atlanta for violation of the wartime laws, was adopted amid cheers, the convention rising and shouting its approval.

The committee in its report urged more stringent examination of immigrants and closer supervision of radicals.

In regard to the question of Japanese immigration the report requested the convention to reaffirm the stand on the subject taken by the two previous conventions and made no further suggestions.

The use of English only in the country's public schools was urged and it was asked that all teachers be required to take the oath of allegiance.

More respect for the flag and more drastic safeguards against using it for advertising purposes at home and abroad were requested.

Better election laws were declared to be necessary.

Punishment for all slackers was demanded.

Mrs. Lowell Hobart of Milford, Ohio, was chosen national president of the American Auxiliary, the women's organization composed of relatives of veterans.

Totally Indifferent

The rush hour crowd was gathered waiting for cars. A middle-aged, red-faced woman dug her elbows into convenient ribs, regardless of owners.

"Say," she bellowed at a stout gentleman, after a particularly vicious jab. "Does it make any difference which of these cars I take to get to Greenwood Cemetery?"

"Not to me, ma'am," he replied, slipping through an opening in the crowd.

DEMOCRATS ELECT HULL AS NATIONAL CHAIRMAN

Tennessee Ex-Congressman Is Chosen When Goltra Refuses to Resign From Contest

St. Louis, Nov. 5.—The Democratic Party chose former Congressman Cordell Hull of Carthage, Tenn., as Chairman of its National Committee to succeed George White, of Marietta, O., who retired to the party ranks, there to "help in the struggle for the ideals of Democracy."

The change in leadership, which had been held by Mr. White since July, 1920, when he assumed the Chairmanship at the call of former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio, the party's nominee for President, was assumed early. After lengthy conferences, it was announced that all elements of the party had agreed upon either former Assistant Secretary of State Breckinridge Long or Mr. Hull. Mr. Long's ultimate selection was contingent, however, upon the resignation of Edward F. Goltra of St. Louis, Committeeman from Missouri.

Mr. Goltra said he would not resign in Mr. Long's favor. Mr. Hull then was announced as the agreed candidate for the Chairmanship.

A conference was arranged at which, it is understood, the white opposition, led by Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, showed its hand, displaying a minimum of sixty-six votes, either present in person or by proxy out of total of less than 100 votes expected to be present.

The retiring Chairman announced that Mr. Hull's selection was a "happy one," asserting that he had not been closely allied with any of the candidates at the San Francisco Convention.

Reports that Daniel C. Roper, former Internal Revenue Commissioner, is to be made Chairman of the National Executive Committee, in accordance with the compromise agreement on the Chairmanship, could not be verified to-night.

The new Chairman said he expected to announce the personnel of the Executive Committee within a few days, probably from Washington.

As one of the first efforts under his leadership, Mr. Hull said he wanted to "decentralize" authority by throwing greater responsibility on local organizations. He recommended close co-operation between the National, State and local committees as a means of success. He also urged that women be more completely represented on the local committees.

The selection of Hull is considered a compromise move between the McAdoo and Cox forces which has been warring with each other for months. The McAdoo adherents opposed White and the Cox adherents opposed Daniel C. Roper. Hull was forced upon the committee by members who hoped for harmony, and to avoid the appearance of boosting any particular man who might be in the next Presidential primary.

Former President Wilson was saluted as "Our stricken soldier of the World War" in a resolution adopted by the committee, while a paragraph of the resolution condemned the "taxation scheme of the Republican Party."

Hull a Native Tennessean and Former District Judge

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 5.—Judge Cordell Hull is a native of Overton County, Tenn., and was educated in the schools of Ohio and Cumberland University, Lebanon, Tenn. He spent his early life as a farmer and lumber dealer. His first public service was as a member of the Tennessee Legislature. Later he was Judge of the 5th Tennessee Judicial District and served several terms in Congress from the 4th Tennessee District. Washington, Nov. 2.—America's greatest war hero manages his old Kentucky home on $84.60 a month, and his chances of handing over to Mrs. Samuel Woodfill a larger sum for the household budget at Fort Thomas waned considerably today.

Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., New York, informed Senator Richard P. Ernst that the latter's bill to retire Sergeant Woodfill with his former rank of Captain and pay as such likely would not be reported out of the Military Affairs Committee.

Other Failure Given As Cause

Mr. Wadsworth's position is that passage of such a bill, even for the country's greatest hero, would be improbable in view of the failure some time ago of a similar bill in behalf of Alvin York, a Tennessee Sergeant.

Mr. Ernst, however, disagrees with Mr. Wadsworth to the extent that he thinks Sergeant Woodfill's recognition as the outstanding warrior of them all would preclude a sound attack on his bill. He announced his purpose to continue his efforts for his measure.

Has Many Appointments

Meanwhile, Sergeant Woodfill continues to enjoy his new and sudden fame. His list of appointments for the day rival in number that of the President, whom he will visit Friday.

Sergeant Woodfill's base pay as a Sergeant is $54 a month, to which is added longevity pay for service, making his monthly pay $84.60.

Big game hunting was a favorite pastime of the intrepid Kentuckian in the days when he was stationed with the army in Alaska. He started out by killing a squirrel when he was 10 years old and wound up by bringing down nineteen Germans in one day in the Argonne.

LEGION CENSURES HARVEY

Kansas City, Nov. 2.—The National Convention of the American Legion this afternoon adopted the report of its resolutions committee after deleting section severely arraigning George Harvey, American Ambassador to Great Britain, for a recent speech on the reason why America went into the war and substituting a resolution couched in less drastic language.

The text of the substitute resolution read:

"That the sentiments expressed by George Harvey, United States Ambassador to Great Britain, in his Pilgrim Day speech, setting forth the reasons for America's entry into the world war and the cause for which America fought, does not represent the true American attitude as interpreted by the American Legion; and let it be known for all time that America fought not only for the rights but for the freedom of the world, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States."

The resolution also was amended to eliminate the prefix "Colonel."

The convention cheered loudly a resolution extending "Greetings" to the former Commander-in-Chief of the American Army and Navy wishing him a speedy and complete recovery from an illness incurred in the service of his country," and there were shouts of "Wilson, Wilson."

Slight Favor Requested

An Eastern college graduate applied for work in a Michigan lumber camp and was assigned to one end of a cross saw, the other end being in charge of an old and experienced lumberman. At the end of an hour the veteran stopped sawing and regarded his weary partner with pitying eyes.

"Sonny," he said, "I don't mind your riding on this saw, but if it's just the same to you, I wish you'd quit scraping your feet on the ground."

"Wasn't it fine about Priscilla getting honors in her school work last term?" said Mrs. Smith to Mrs. Brown.

"What?" asked Mrs. Brown. "I didn't know about it."

"But it was in the Home Town Paper," replied Mrs. Smith. "Don't you take it?"

"No," said Mrs. Brown, "but I am going to."

And she did, for this is a true story.

KENTUCKY CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY NEEDS ASSISTANCE

Upon the mothers and school children of Kentucky, rests the fate of thousands of little homeless and friendless children throughout the State as only through completion of the cottage village at Lyndon, Ky., can these little waifs be rescued from squalor and crime by the Kentucky Children's Home Society. Funds for the cottage village now under construction are exhausted and plans for removal of the Kentucky Children's Home Society by December 1st, from the present quarters on Baxter Avenue to the rural Home will be halted unless the appeal for money is answered by the mothers of Kentucky.

The call of the country has echoed throughout the crowded city Home for the 160 children that fill the old row of former residences which have been converted for many years into the quarters of the institution.

Two of the buildings of the cottage village are nearly completed, but the workmen must lay down their tools, the children must forget the happiness they had longed for if the appeal fails. George L. Schenck, Superintendent of the Society is asking the mothers and school children for sufficient funds to complete the village, in order that the future Home may be dedicated to the school children of today.

More than 3800 children have been taken in by the Society since its organization twenty-five years ago and today in every community of the State are men and women among the representative citizens, who owe their success in life to the Society which saved them from the evil environments of the county.

More thousands of little ones, destitute and friendless, await longingly for the doors of the Kentucky Children's Home Society to open to them and, now with pitiful appeal they knock at the hearts of humanity for a chance. It is divulged by statistics compiled by the United States census that 90 percent of the inmates of the prisons are individuals who had training for no work whatever. Illiterates compose practically the entire army of our tramps, a tremendously expensive group. One out of forty of the entire host of fallen women in the United States has had no training in the matter of trade or profession. But we could go on with figures indefinitely.

All of these conditions which add to the burden of public tax and menace public health are corrected in part by the Kentucky Children's Home Society, which takes in the little waifs, trains them, schools them and places them in households where they generally are adopted into the family.

The Society accepts only those children committed to its care by the County Judges of the State, thus relieving the various counties of their care and putting the little ones in surroundings that work for better citizenship.

From Ohio County 67 children have been received into the Kentucky Children's Home, whereas the Ohio County fiscal court has contributed only $850.00 to its upkeep. The quota for Ohio County 31, Constance, Ky., last Saturday at is $1,592.96 and now it is urged the former's home. A third brother, that every means be carried out to bring the wounded man here in raise this sum at once, in order that the work of the Society may not be

WHEAT UNDER $1; CORN AT LOW MARK

Chicago, Nov. 3.—What long ago used to be considered normalcy was reached today on the Chicago Board of Trade—wheat at $1 a bushel. The December delivery fell to that price, the lowest since 1915.

The dollar-a-bushel price led to comparisons with more than double that figure realized during the great war and also was a reminder that the market for May delivery was down to 84½ cents a bushel in 1914, and to 83½ cents in 1911.

Before trading was ended, December wheat declined a full cent more and closed at the bottom figures of the session, 99 cents a bushel to 99½ a loss of 2½ to 3¼ compared with twenty-four hours before.

December corn closed at 44-5-8 to 44½ the lowest level touched in the last eleven years.

The Only Resource

The class in chemistry was wrestling with a tough problem.

"Suppose," supposed the professor, "you were called upon to attend a patient who had swallowed a heavy dose of oxalic acid—what would you administer?"

There was silence for a few moments and then a voice spoke up:

In His Own Time

An old Scotchman, David Gordon, was seriously ill, with scanty hope for recovery. He had been wheeled into making a will by relatives, and these were now gathered about his bedside watching him laboriously sign it. He got as far as D-A-V-I—then fell back exhausted.

"D, Uncle David, D," exhorted a nephew.

"Deel!" ejaculated the old Scot feebly, but with indignation. "I'll die when I'm ready, ye avaricious wretches!"

WEDNESDAY NOV. 9, 1921

This is "Subscribe To Your Home Town Paper" Week. The occasion is being observed and feasted all over the nation. In urging our readers to give serious thought to the value of their home town papers, we trust we will not be thought to be actuated merely by selfish motives. The country newspaper fills a place in rural life that is not always appreciated. But when one is far from home and loved ones, a stranger in a strange land, its weekly advent is an event to be looked forward to, indeed is like a letter from home. Every line is couched with avidity and even the advertisements make interesting reading matter. To the folks at home the country paper is even more important.
It is not only the common forum for the discussion of all civic matters, but it is also the clearing-house of local information. It furnishes news of church, school, and lodge, farm, factory and mart. It chronicles our comings and goings; it is a social register which heralds the chiming of wedding bells, the arrival of the new baby and at last the sad news that another friend and neighbor has crossed the Great Divide. Of course, like other businesses, the country newspaper must return its publishers at least a living, but it, perhaps, more nearly realizes the goal of altruistic unselfish community service than any other business or profession. This statement intends no reflection upon the noble band of men and women engaged in other lines, who are giving the best of service to their fellow, but seeks to emphasize the fact that the rural newspaper is the organized permanent expression of the combined aspirations and efforts of all the elements of country life.

On the 12th. inst. a most momentous conference of the representatives of the Great Powers will begin at Washington. This meeting of leading diplomats was called by President Harding for the purpose of trying to devise ways and means of reducing international armaments. Statesmen and publicists naturally differ as to the best methods of attaining the desired end, but they are all agreed, as well as the private citizen, that national disarmament is a "consummation most devoutly to be wished for." The dream of the ages has been peace and the efforts of the good and great have been bent toward that goal. It matters not whether it comes through the Hague Tribunal, the League of Nations or the Disarmament Conference, but by all means let us have it. It is the hope and the prayer of this nation and of the world that the era may soon be ushered in. When the war-drums throb no longer and the battle flags are furled in the Parliament of Man, the Federation of the World.

Day after tomorrow, Friday, the 11th., has been set aside by the President as a Legal Holiday "as a mark of respect to the memory of those who gave their lives in the late World War, as typified by the unknown and unidentified American soldier who is to be buried in Arlington National Cemetery on that day." Armistice Day should ever be celebrated as a companion national holiday of Independence Day, for it signified the success of our efforts to "make the world safe for democracy" and the realization of the ideal of world freedom and justice.

The election passed off quietly in Ohio County yesterday, one of the largest votes ever known being polled. Both sides worked feverishly from the opening till the closing of the polls, but, so far as we have learned, everything was done in decency and order. The mandate of the people has been given and upon the victors now rests the solemn burden of a duty to perform. Let us hope that they will justify the confidence reposed in them. When the smoke of partisan battle has blown away, the real goal of true citizenship will loom up brighter than before. For we all love Ohio County and put her happiness and prosperity above all other interests.

FIRST TRIP HARTFORD-EVANSVILLE PACKET NEXT WEEK

The freight packet which has been under construction at the local wharf for several weeks, to be used in the transportation of freight to and from Hartford, Evansville and intermediate points, is nearing completion, and will probably be christened next Monday. The first trip to Evansville will be made shortly thereafter for the purpose of undergoing an inspection and measurement by the U. S. Boat Inspection Department. The packet is 64x14 feet, overall, has a 25 horsepower crude oil engine and a capacity of 35 tons. It is equipped with a stern-wheel and pitman-drive and is two stories in height. Its owners, Messrs. H. T. Holbrook, M. T. Parks and M. D. King, of this place, are to be commended for their enterprise in establishing a much needed means of transportation.

VOICE OF REFORM.

"There was quite a lively discussion at a meeting of the master barbers yesterday."

"What about?"

"The suggestion was made that publications exploiting pugilists and chorus girls should be banished from all first class tonorial parlors."

"Was the motion carried?"

"No. Some of the master barbers contended that their clients had not been educated up to that point yet, so the motion was lost."

GOOD TASTE.

Young Lady—"Who's that tall, distinguished-looking man standing by the fireplace?"

Dowager—"My nephew. Lives in the country all the year round. Never comes to London if he can help it."

Young Lady—"Oh, but you must introduce me to him. I simply adore savages."—Punch.

LED BY CONSCIENCE.

"What first led you to go into politics?"

"My conscience," replied Senator Borgham. "As a young man I had so high an opinion of my abilities that I thought it would be an unpardonable lack of patriotism if I neglected to give my country the benefit of my services."

COOPER BROS.,
Beaver Dam, Ky.*DIPHTHERIA PROCLAMATION

Whereas, diphtheria, a highly infectious disease, especially dangerous to children, is reported as prevalent in almost every section of the State; and,

Whereas, the prompt administration of antitoxin early enough in each case gives prompt and practically certain relief:

NOW, THEREFORE, the State Board of Health, acting within authority conferred upon it by law, hereby requests parents and others having charge of children to promptly isolate in a well ventilated room, any child having a sore throat, especially if there are white patches in the throat, and immediately secure the services of a physician. It is urged that not less than 10,000 units of antitoxin be given as soon as diphtheria is suspected, and repeated in larger doses when necessary.

The attention of the parents is called to the provision of law that no child can be released from quarantine for diphtheria until two negative reports have been received from specimens sent in to the State Laboratory. As soon as the people comply with this law, there will be no sickness or death from diphtheria.

The attention of the less progressive counties of the State is called to the ease with which such epidemics are managed, and the efficiency with which they are controlled in the counties having All-Time Health Departments with enough public health nurses and the county officials and the people from the other counties are urged to study the methods used in Fulton, Muhlenberg, Daviess, Jefferson, Scott, Mason, Boyd and Harlan Counties, and the City of Lexington, to see how the health and lives of their children may be preserved at far less expense than this and other epidemics are constantly costing.

It is urged that school boards and others in authority arrange to have children under their control tested for susceptibility of diphtheria, and immunized where this is necessary.

The attention of the less progressive counties of the State is called to the ease with which such epidemics are managed, and the efficiency with which they are controlled in the counties having All-Time Health Departments with enough public health nurses

"Can you tell me the date the Baptist church burned—I mean, of course, the famous fire that all the old inhabitants talk about?"

The librarian looked up from her work. "No, I can't tell you the exact date, but I think I can find it for you quickly, for we have the files of the local paper since it was started. My impression is that it is the big fire, as they call it—was about 1873—and it won't be a very long job to look it up."

She went to the stacks in the library, pulled out a volume of the bound volume marked "70" for Slack.

It appears from returns that the Republicans of Ohio counties heard that Judge Slack was a "non-partisan," and took him at his word, and voted for Wilson.

An Able Attorney

Hon. George S. Wilson, who will become circuit judge on January 2, is one of the best known attorneys in Kentucky. He served with marked ability as speaker of the house of representatives, being sent to the legislature from Union county. At the close of that legislature he came to Owensboro and formed a law partnership with H. A. Birkhead. Mr. Wilson is now serving as city attorney for Owensboro. He is prominent in civic and church affairs.

Glover Cary, county attorney of McLean county, who has been promoted to the office of commonwealth's attorney by the voters of the Sixth district made a fine race, and added much strength to the ticket. Mr. Cary was one of the best speakers of the Democrats. He is an attorney of ability, and it is certain that he will November 7-12—Place in Community Life Emphasized.

November 7-12 has been set as "Subscribers for Your Home Town Paper"

"and this newspaper, together with the thousands of country newspapers in the United States over—there are not far from 15,000 of them, weeklies and small dailies—is to participate.

The purpose of the campaign is not only to induce residents of the small communities and the home town folks who are far from their native hearth to subscribe for the home paper, but also to emphasize the important place the home newspaper plays in the life of its community.

This campaign has the hearty support and co-operation not only of the newspapers but thousands of ministers and school principals, and many state agricultural colleges and farm and home bureau organizations.

Some persons, it is pointed out, have been inclined to belittle the place and function of the country newspaper. They have not realized that in reality the home paper is a community institution and that it enables the other institutions, such as the church and the school and all the rest to function better and more effectively. This is a necessity if the town is to that's about all I need. It has a few items every week from our commu-lars a year by not subscribing to the home paper."

"Well, that's one way to look at it," said the other farmer, "but I've always felt that a local newspaper was a pretty valuable asset to any community, and if everybody took the attitude you do, there couldn't be any local newspaper. Of course we could not get along without our daily papers, because they keep us informed about what's going on throughout the nation and throughout the world, but when you say that they take care of our local news, I don't think you are sticking close to facts. They simply can't, and the publishers haven't any personal interest in our community

the way our editor has."

"I have always felt that I got value received for every dollar I've paid out in subscriptions to the local paper, and I don't have an idea that running a country newspaper is any more of a wealth-producing proposition than running a farm. So long as I've got two dollars I intend that the rural mail carrier is going to tuck a copy of the home paper in my box every week."

That farmer knows that the community newspaper is a necessity in the same; that without it his home is incomplete and his part in the community would be unsatisfactory to his family. He knows what is in the local newspaper.

"Was your second-hand truck repaired by an expert?" said Farmer Chessman.

"I'm a little suspicious that it wasn't," replied Farmer Brookfield. "The young fellow who did the work took the machine all apart, put it together again so it runs as easy as a gold watch, an' charged me only $10."

Social Stude (frowning in perplexity on hearing once more that she is not at home)—I wonder, Jimmy, if your sister realized that I have treated her to three taxi rides and four concerts this month?

"And, now, darling," said the wife, who was in one of her sweet moods, "what are you going to give me?"

"I give you myself," said the husband.

"Yourself?"

"Yes; don't you remember calling me a blockhead last night?"

Mad, Anyhow.

"One of our prominent professors gave an interview to one of the reporters with the understanding that his name must not appear in print."

"Then it evidently got into the paper."

"Yes, and now he is mad because it was spelled wrong."—Kansas Brown Bull.

Speaks Feelingly.

Speaker—Is there any one here who does not believe in the basic principle that the more hands there are the less work there will be for each worker?

Woman—Yes, I don't believe it.

"And may I ask, madam, what you know about it?"

"I am a manicurist."

Time to Keep Cool.

"As I was coming home tonight," said Mr. Dubwaite, "I was held up."

"Mercy!" exclaimed Mrs. Dubwaite.

"By a highwayman?"

"No, by a traffic policeman."

"Then you didn't lose anything."

"Yes, I did. I lost my temper and I'm now under bond."

The best time to vaccinate pigs is when they are from eight to 16 weeks old or about ten days after weaning at which time they should be given both the serum and the virus, these two comprising the double method of treatment. Infected premises make it necessary to vaccinate the pigs with either the double or single treatment when they are from two to four weeks old.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, Leslie Shields, who departed this life Nov. 2, 1918. Just three years ago today our darling passed away. Lord, keep green the grave that lies beneath the starry skies. God called him home; it was His will, but in our hearts he will always linger. For all of us he did his best. May God grant him eternal rest. He is sadly missed by MOTHER, SISTER and BROTHER.

Back to Town Crier

How many residents of any small community have ever considered what might happen if there were no newspapers? Just previous to "Subscribe for Your Home Town Paper Week," which is to be observed the country over November 7-12, is a good time to recall the plight of Macon, Mo., not long ago, when fire put the Chronicle-Herald out of business for two weeks.

According to The Publishers' Almanac, the old town crier, relic of many years back, was yanked from his hiding place, dusted off, and put back on his job, with a jangling bell, a megaphone, and a fog-horn voice only a little worse for long disuse.

It may have been a novelty for two weeks. But think of a community without printers' ink, compelled to get its announcements of auctions, sales, court sessions, births, marriages, deaths, epidemics of sickness, dog ordinances, board meetings, commencement, tax notices, advertisements of help and situations wanted, accidents, and the rest, through a shouting and the rest, through a shouting
